

Want To Have Your Say In How Child Welfare Works in Ontario?

The Ontario government is looking at making transformational changes to Ontario's child welfare system. They are seeking advice and recommendations through an online survey from individuals who have experience with the child welfare system including:

- Youth or former youth who are receiving, or have received services from, a children's aid society or have received residential care;
- Parents, family members or caregivers who have had involvement with a children's aid society or with licensed child and youth residential services;
- Frontline workers from:
 - children's aid societies,
 - licensed child and youth residential services, and
 - other community-based service providers that work with children, youth and families involved with the child welfare system and with licensed residential services.

The deadline to complete the survey is October 11, 2019

Participants will be asked for their insights about the gaps, barriers, and opportunities to support better outcomes for children, youth and families. The survey is anonymous and will take about 20 minutes to complete.

The survey is available in both English and French. Should you have any questions regarding the survey, the child welfare modernization engagement efforts, or wish to receive a paper copy of the survey by mail, please contact CYFSA@ontario.ca.
